

National Post* and Montreal daily The Gazette now available on NewsScan.com

Montreal, September 1, 2006 — CEDROM-SNi, a company specializing in electronic media information, has just signed an agreement with National Post and The Gazette publisher Canwest to make the entire content of these two major dailies available online. This agreement reaffirms CEDROM-SNi's commitment to offering its clients the best press coverage in the country.

According to company president François Aird, these new publications add to the rich content made available by CEDROM-SNi. "The National Post and the Montreal Gazette enhance the outstanding content offered through our service, along with a number of other recently integrated English-language sources. Starting September 1, our professional clients will have access to the most diversified, relevant, and exhaustive news content in Canada."
